

Competition Purse Module

The BRS Golf Competition Purse Module reduces 'no-shows' and time spent on administration by requiring payment when a member enters the competition time sheet, not the competition start sheet. Members simply select a competition to enter and pay automatically from their account.

Members' frequently asked questions

What if people 'block book' and don't show up?

BRS Golf restricts how far in advance members can book, how many players they can book and how late they can cancel or amend a booking. Once a booking is made, the players will be asked to check in at the pro shop on the day of play. 'No-show' reports also monitor the number of cancellations made by an individual. Many clubs report a decrease in 'no-shows' after implementing BRS Golf, as cancellation is quicker and easier.

“ We now use BRS Golf technology for all member and visitor bookings. It is a particularly excellent tool for managing competitions – I wouldn't like to think about running competitions without it! ”
